| What is the greatest gift someone could give you?

TIME... Spending time with me... I'm not the person who seeks people's time frequently... Rarely very rarely I need people badly with me especially from my close ones... I even ask for them, their time, their presence but if they fail to give that time... They can't be anymore in my life...

Lesson : I lost two close people because of this attitude of mine... And the term "Friendship"...

Anything for GOOD... ☺
